

Important message

The BooXtream plug-in for WordPress / WooCommerce is not updated since 2019 and is not tested with newer versions of WordPress and WooCommerce. It is NOT supported and maintained anymore.

The code base is open sourced and can be downloaded freely:
<https://github.com/BooXtream/BooXtream-WooCommerce>

Use the plug-in source code and documentation as a starting point for your own development. That is, anyone is freely licensed to use, copy, study, and change the plug-in in any way, and the source code is openly shared on Github so that people are encouraged to voluntarily improve the design and features of the plug-in. Use and modify as you like. A BooXtream test-account is required. Contact info@booxtream.com.

Please note

Icontact (the original creators of the plug-in) cannot provide any support for the plug-in. The focus of Icontact is on the BooXtream API (the core product of BooXtream), and on the BooXtream Dashboard, which are fully operational and maintained. Check the BooXtream SDK with a client class in PHP for use with the BooXtream web service on <https://github.com/BooXtream/BooXtream-SDK> or contact support@booxtream.com for developers documentation and technical questions.
